Washington tailback Tavian Patrick has jumped to the top of the Metro rushing derby with his 212-yard outburst against Muscatine last Friday night at Kingston Stadium.

Patrick has carried the ball 48 times for 589 yards in five games for a remarkable average of 12.27 yards per carry. He has a slight lead over Prairie tailback Keagan Pinter, who has rushed 84 times for 584 yards.

Jefferson quarterback Jesse Furrow leads the Metro in passing. He has completed 40 of 70 passes (57.1 percent) for 832 yards. Furrow has thrown nine touchdown passes in five games with only two interceptions.

Linn-Mar quarterback Ryan Schmidt and Xavier quarterback Bryce Schulte are locked in a tight battle for the Metro scoring lead. Schmidt has run for 10 touchdowns and 60 points, while Schulte has scored nine touchdowns for 54 points.

Jefferson receiver Many Olutunde has caught only eight passes this season, but they've been good for 268 yards and an eye-popping average of 33.5 yards per catch on throws from Furrow.

The Washington Warriors lead Metro teams in scoring at 39.4 points per game, followed by Jefferson (34.2), Xavier (32.6) and Linn-Mar (30.6).

The Xavier Saints are allowing only 148.4 yards and 7.8 points per game this season. That includes just 55.2 yards per game on the ground and 93.2 yards through the air.
