KEOKUK - Kim Muhl quietly and humbly collected his 900th victory as the head coach of the Kirkwood women's basketball program Wednesday night when the top-ranked Eagles clipped Southeastern, 73-66, in the ICCAC conference opener in Keokuk.

There was no announcement to the crowd after the game. And there was no celebration, no hugs and apparently no mention of the achievement by Muhl's players in the locker room.

"I don't know if they knew or not. Which is good," he said during a telephone interview on the bus ride back to Cedar Rapids.

Muhl did give himself a treat before heading home. "A hamburger at Wendy's," he said, laughing.

Muhl, 64, has posted an incredible record at Kirkwood with 900 wins and only 158 losses in 31 years, with seven national titles along the way. As usual, he downplayed Wednesday's milestone.

"It's one of those things," he remarked. "You don't think about it right now, because you're getting ready for Iowa Lakes on Saturday. Maybe next summer I'll think about it.

"It's hard to believe you've been doing it this long," he allowed. "Like they always say, time passes quickly."

Muhl said he's not sure if he'll stick around to reach 1,000 victories in a few years, but acknowledged the thought of 1,000 is enticing.

Muhl collects 900th win with No. 1 Eagles

Chattanooga, Tenn. (The Sports Report) — Chattanooga's No. 1 ranked Eagles defeated the No. 2 ranked Bulldogs 1-0 on Wednesday night to collect their 900th win in program history. The victory was a historic moment for the team, as it marked the first time in the program's history that they had reached 900 wins. The Eagles' win was a testament to their consistent performance throughout the season, as they have maintained their top ranking in the nation. The Bulldogs, on the other hand, were looking to bounce back from a recent loss, but were unable to do so in this matchup. The game was a closely contested affair, with both teams showing great defensive play. The Eagles' offense was able to break through the Bulldogs' defense in the first half, scoring the game-winning goal. The victory was a morale booster for the Eagles, as they continue to strive for excellence in their sport. The Bulldogs will look to regroup and improve for their next game. The game was a highlight of the season for both teams, and it will be remembered for years to come.
