The Washington Warriors will play No.1 Linn-Mar and No.3 Sioux City East on consecutive days in February.

The Warriors have agreed to play Sioux City East on Saturday, Feb. 12, at Wells Fargo Arena in Des Moines as part of the Iowa Energy High School Hoop Series.

Washington already had a regularly scheduled date with Linn-Mar on the docket for Friday, Feb. 11, at Linn-Mar. The Warriors lost to the Lions, 80-55, Friday night.

Sioux City East features Adam Woodbury, a 7-foot-1 center who averages 21.3 points and 14 rebounds. Woodbury, a junior, is being heavily recruited by Division I colleges.

Washington's game against Sioux City East is scheduled to start at 5 p.m. The Iowa Energy will play Dakota in an NBA D-League game following the high school game.
