The Cedar Rapids Kernels and Minnesota Twins announced Saturday that infielder Sean Miller has joined the Kernels from Elizabethton of the Appalachian League.

The Twins selected Miller in the 10th round of the 2015 draft from the University of South Carolina-Aiken. In 11 games with Elizabethton, he was batting .209 with a triple and RBI.

Miller will be active for Saturday night's game at Kane County. He replaces T.J. White, who was promoted to Fort Myers in the Florida State League this week.
